In Backwards World, everything is the opposite as it is here on Earth. The sun comes up every morning and the sun comes up every night. People feel excited about holidays and everyone loves ice cream. In Backwards World, people are friendly with their neighbors and everyone says hello when they see friends in town. Families have dinner together and then spend the evening laughing as they watch their favorite TV show. When it's time for bed, all the children in Backwards World close their eyes and dream about how similar things must be on planet Earth.
